Deputy for Strategic Study of Lemhannas RI: SMEs are “Hero” for Indonesia’s Economy

Prof. Dr. Ir. Djagal Wiseso Marseno, M. Agr opened a Focus Group Discussion (FGD) themed the Strengthening of Small and Medium-Sized Enterprises (SMEs) to Boost Economic Independence for National Resilience.

The event held on Monday (19/10) at Gatot Kaca Room, 3rd Floor of Asta Gatra Building was led by Middle-Senior Analyst on National Ideology of Lemhannas RI Commodore Rosehan Chaidir.

“The SMEs play a significant role in Indonesia’s economy. Looking back at the monetary crisis in 1997-1998, it is evident that this sector was a ‘hero’ for the people. Amidst the 1998 crisis, it was only the SMEs which could survive and strive while the large scale enterprises collapsed.

However, unfortunately, the SMEs still face a lot of difficulties and challenges to develop in the national economy”, said Djagal.

While the number of SMEs continues to increase every year, the quality of SMEs has yet to be improved due to its internal and external problems.

The internal problems ranged from low quality of human resources, poor technology adaptation and lack of marketing strategies, lack of entrepreneurship spirit, limited access to capitals, information, and markets, low productivity, and other production issues.

While the external problems being faced by SMEs include huge production costs due to unfavorable business climate, scarcity of raw materials, legality issues and lack of government supports.

Thus, SMEs need to strengthen infrastructure, to develop skill, capability, technology, and to link with state-owned enterprises or large scale enterprises as well as to have access to market information in order to achieve economic independence.

The SMEs have a great potential to increase per capita income, provide job opportunities, drive rural development, reduce imports and save the economy in times of crisis. It also helps develop entrepreneurship and investment in production.
