Lemhannas RI Governor Prof. Dr. Ir. Budi Susilo Soepandji, DEA expressed his appreciation of the performance demonstrated by all working units of Lemhannas RI in 2014 during a flag-raising ceremony at the Dwi Warna Building of Lemhannas RI in Jakarta on Monday (19/1).

He elaborated on the improved performance of Lemhannas RI as the institution was getting increasingly recognized as an educational institution that generated national leaders. The institution has also improved its utilization of annual budget from 85.51% in 2013 to 95.5% in 2014.

The governor called further attention to seven important aspects that needed to be adhered to by all Lemhannas RI work units in carrying out their duties, namely, to be fully aware of the nine priorities agenda (or "Nawa Cita") program of Joko Widodo and Jusuf Kalla's government; to carefully and strategically carry out the planning and supervision of the 2015 work programs; to improve cooperation, synergy, and solidarity among work units; to improve work discipline and budgetary discipline; to consistently improve the competence and capacity of human resources; to prepare anticipatory and strategic measures in responding to the changing dynamics; and to strengthen network with other ministries/agencies or parties. These seven aspects are expected to further improve the work ethics of all Lemhannas RI employees in the future.

The ceremony was attended by Lemhannas RI top officials, including the Deputy Governor, Secretary of the Governing Board, Principal Secretary, Deputies, Senior Lecturers, Senior Analysts, Professional Experts, as well as structural officials and employees of Lemhannas RI.

Siskurtannas Strengthens the Organizing of PPRA and PPSA

Lemhannas RI again held a discussion on the National Resilience Measurement System (Siskurtannas) and Public Policy-Making Simulation with Dynamic Modeling Approach at Kresna Room, Astagatra Building, 4th Floor, Lemhannas RI on Monday (19/1). The event was moderated by Prof. Dr. Sudaryono, SU.

In his opening remarks, Lemhannas RI Governor Budi Susilo Soepandji mentioned that Lemhannas RI needed to carry out a comprehensive restructuring program in various aspects, including in facilities and infrastructure, which would allow the institution to transform itself into a world class institution.

Budi Susilo Soepandji further expressed that the National Resilience Measurement Laboratory (Labkurtannas) had developed a National Resilience Measurement System (Siskurtannas) and a public policy-making simulation system. Both systems are not only intended to formulate recommendations for the government, but also to improve Lemhannas RI's capacity in carrying out its duties and functions in the organizing of PPRA and PPSA.

On the same occasion, Labkurtannas Chairman Prof. Dr. Miyasto, SU, put forth that the simulation was very helpful to determine the causes and impacts of the nation's critical issues, such as poverty, unemployment, social inequality, lack of quality human resources, diminishing nationalistic values and lack of bureaucratic reforms.

Miyasto went on to say that the system had also been suggested to be used by the participants of Lemhannas RI's Service Regular Educational Program (PPRA) and Service Short Educational Program (PPSA) as a simulation exercise to examine how they would make favorable public policies when holding strategic posts in the future.

During the discussion session, Prof. Dr. Jana Tjahjana Anggadireja put forward the ideas that Labkurtannas should create a dynamic system for more accurate data.

In his closing remarks, Budi Susilo Soepandji conveyed that although the database management had not yet been fully optimized, the Siskurtannas was expected to internally strengthen the organizing of the PPRA and PPSA programs.

He further emphasized that the intersection between knowledge and decision-making was an important aspect that had to be examined in order to keep moving forward.
