The Governor of Lemhannas RI gives lecture to PPRA 60 Participants

The Governor of Lemhannas RI Lieut. Gen. (Ret.) Agus Widjojo gave lecture to PPRA 60 (Regular Education Program Batch 60) participants on Thursday (23/01) at Auditorium Gajah Mada.

During the lecture, Agus emphasized the introduction to Lemhannas RI, the writing of Individual Scientific Paper (Taskap), and critical thinking. Agus explained that at the beginning of its establishment, Lemhannas RI used to be national defense institute. Along with the rapidly developing strategic environment, Lemhannas RI has finally become a national resilience institute.

Agus also explained that national values such as four basic consensus of the nation (Pancasila, The 1945 Constitution of the Republic of Indonesia, the Unitary State of the Republic of Indonesia, and Unity in Diversity) and national paradigm (Archipelago Insights, National Resilience, and National Vigilance) have become the core of Lemhannas RI in carrying out its functions.

Related to the Taskap writing, Agus conveyed that several criteria of scientific writing is the objective fact as its background; systemically, conceptually, and procedurally arranged using certain method; written correctly with effective language; contains point of views supported by evidence based on hypotheses (temporary answer to presumptive problems because they still need to be proven) are not estimations; and contain factual truth.

Related to the Taskap topic, Agus said that it can be chosen through several researches in relations to similar topic conducted in the past. "There is a gap that leaves us with questions in the research stages that had been done in the past and can be used as the research topic," Agus said.

Agus also explained that in Taskap arrangement, the participants must have logical scientific thinking such as the problem identification, factual data collection, data analysis (logic and cause and effect process) until the conclusion and suggestion.

In addition, according to Agus, in writing a Taskap, the participants need to think critically where a process of thinking follows a broad range of attitudes and skills towards oneself and others. "To develop the ability to think critically requires attention to detail, identifying patterns and inclinations, repetition, seeing from a different perspective and objective, and considering the consequences and implications in the future," Agus added.

In the lecture which was attended by Faculty Members and several structural officials of Lemhannas RI, Agus held a question and answer session to PPRA 60 participants to talk about the material that had been delivered.
